PONTOON BEACH — Residents of the Cottontree Mobile Home Park are wondering if they will have to move. The owner of the park, Max Shafer, has lost his business license to operate the park.

Shafer's license was revoked following a hearing at the village hall last Friday. President Glen Wilson Tamm said the park at 4140 Division St. has been cited for health ordinance violations, including overgrown weeds, scattered garbage and trash, and improper sewer pipe connection.

VILLAGE HEALTH Officer Bob Douglas testified during the hearing that he inspected the park Aug. 22 and found weeds taller than a foot, apparently violating the village's weed-growth ordinance. Some weeds, he said, were more than five feet tall.

In addition, he said, trash was overflowing from a dumpster.

Douglas said he served a health violation notice on the park manager, Perry Hopwood, because MAVREYNSBURG — Association Local 743 representatives, school board members, administrators and state mediators met for three hours Thursday night in negotiations on a new contract for the teachers.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchek said the Board of Education has presented an offer and hopes the teachers will react positively.

The most recent three-year agreement with faculty members has expired. Teachers are to meet to discuss the current offer.

negotiation meetings are scheduled at this time but further discussions are likely soon, Palchek said.

Brown named director

By DAVE WHALEY

GRANITE CITY — Harold Brown will return as the interim director of the Granite City Park District on Monday.

Brown, 63, accepted an offer Thursday from Park Board President George Sykes to serve as the interim director for a minimum of two months, while the board continues its search for a full-time director.

Dave Nolan resigned as director in June to take another job.

BROWN WAS DIRECTOR of the park district from 1982 until retiring in January 1982. He was succeeded by Nolary Brown and his wife, Shirley, who have since lived in Wright City, Mo.

Sykes said the board authorized him to negotiate with Brown, whose salary of $550 per week, plus $100 in expenses for a four-week period and $25 for each board meeting attended. The projected amount for an eight-week period came out to $4,550, Sykes said.

Brown was in town late last week to attend funeral services for his wife's aunt.

He began his association with the park district in 1952 as a softball supervisor and was named assistant director of parks and recreation in 1959.

DURING HIS YEARS HERE, he served on the board of directors of the Illinois Parks and Recreation Association in 1975 and 1976 and was vice president of the Amateur Softball Association of Illinois from 1970 to 1972.

Brown was awarded honorary citizenship status by the Granite City Council before his retirement. The Nameoki Recreation Center, 2165 Amos Ave., was renamed the Harold Brown Recreation Center in 1982.

As a result of the board's action, the salaries of John Lakin, recreation supervisor, and Adrean Rains, maintenance supervisor, will now be returned to the regular salary base. Lakin and Rains had both been receiving an extra $75 per week since Nolan left because of their expanded duties.

THE SALARY of Sue Champion, office manager, will now be $25 more per week than her base salary. She had also received a $75 per week raise in June.

Sykes said the board decided to conduct interviews with 11 candidates for the director's position.

FIVE CANDIDATES to be interviewed were from out-of-town. Sykes hopes to begin interviews Sept. 14 and would like to have finished with them later than Sept. 21.

According to the board's timetable, it would like to name a new director at the Sept. 24 meeting.

Striking design of Taft home invites visitors

By DONNA KIMBRO

Staff writer

One of the seven homes in the autumn house tour of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society (DNR) is owned by Mrs. Thomas Taff, 2251 Cleveland Blvd.

Restoration of all woodwork, staircases and doors is evident in the Taff home. The family also has retained the residence's stained glass windows and light fixtures.

STRIKING IN DESIGN and in its restoration, the home is an open staircase in the entry hall. The three-section solid oak staircase is decorated with intricate carvings on the newel posts. Attached to the staircase, on the main level, is a built-in oak seat.

To the right and left of the entry hall were parlors in the early years of the house, which was built in 1902.

Today, the one to the right functions as a den and on the left is the formal living room. Both have original fireplaces. Separating the rooms from the hallway are full-length double doors that, when open, are stored within the wide walls.

THE ORIGINAL light fixture in the dining room was manufactured with a large glass bowl in the center. There are three suspended drop glass shades, coordinated together in a triangle design by large-link chains.

Another feature of the dining room is a wooden rail, near the ceiling, where the owners' collection of hand-painted and antique plates is displayed. A small room off the dining room to the kitchen was, at one time, a butler's pantry. It has been divided, with a half-bath on one side and storage cabinets on the other. A small back door leads to a hallway that leads from the dining room to the kitchen. It has been divided, with a half-bath on one side and storage cabinets on the other. A small back door leads to a hallway that leads from the dining room to the kitchen.

A MODERN KITCHEN is the only room of the house where it was necessary to make extensive changes. Even here, much of the previous ambience has been recapitulated.

New oak cabinets were installed to complement the woodwork. There are now a built-in stove and built-in oven.

In an effort to retain as much as possible of the original woodwork, the Taffs scraped old plaster and paper from one wall of brick. It is the back of the fireplace in the den, and it has become a focal point of the kitchen.

INTRICATE WOOD CARVINGS decorate the newels of the solid oak staircase in the foyer of the Thomas Taff home at 2251 Cleveland Blvd. The entire home has been completely refurbished, including this staircase that was painstakingly refinished to its natural state. The home will be featured during the annual Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society house tour Sept. 29.

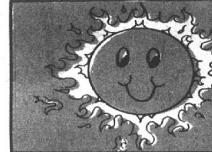

A WIDE ISLAND of cabinets stands in the middle of the room and provides a work area. Just off the kitchen is a small breakfast room, renovated to keep the older era's atmosphere.

There are five bedrooms upstairs, including a small chapel room.

Comparable worth to be subject of debate when Congress meets

WASHINGTON — Look for a good old-fashioned partisan snarling match once Congress settles down from its August recess. The subject is one that has already raised hackles on both sides: the concept of "comparable worth," or equal pay for jobs that are deemed to be equal value.

Republicans, especially conservative Republicans, are generally leery of the idea. It frightens businessmen who fear it will set off a race to have to pay as much as truck drivers, or nurses as much as trash collectors.

Democrats, especially liberal Democrats, are generally in favor of comparable worth, or some way of getting better pay for traditional "women's jobs."

Just before Congress left town to escape Washington's dog days, it was decided to end with some success that the injured feelings are still smarting. It started when Rep. Mary Rose Oakar, D-Ohio, introduced legislation that would ban formal comparisons of the jobs and pay scales of women in the federal government. It sailed through committee and seemed ready to proceed through the House.

But the Republicans, led by Reps. Richard Arayne, Texas, and Dan Burton, Ind., leaped into the breach, offering more than 150 amendments on a single day, July 10.

The parliamentary tactic was intended to slow up the bill by giving more time for debate. It succeeded. The bill is still pending.

The Republicans called it "damage control," saying it was the only way they could keep the Democrats from railroading the bill through the House. That is what can often be the tactic: "dilatory and frivolous."

Although some of the amendments offered were designed to derail the proposed comparable-worth study by requiring preliminary hearings and formal votes on a study commission, for example — there was a strong suspicion that the GOP opponents were simply trying to laugh off Rep. Oakar's bid to death. Among the subtitles proposed by the Republicans were:

- The Sexist Socialism Act
- Feminist Folly
- Equal Rights Rerouted Through a Greased Track
- Let's Soak the Taxpayer Again
- The $320 Billion Mistake
- "Women can be used to make a debater's point," explained an aide to Burton.

Rep. Oakar was not laughing. She said the "proposed amendments reflected the kind of demands demanding mentality," and showed "the pathetic quality of what they are trying to do."

Never before in her nine years on Capitol Hill had Rep. Oakar heard such "sexist ... outrageous" statements as those directed at her bill. She also represented President Reagan's description of comparable worth as "harmless."

brained," and Civil Rights Commission Chairman Clarence M. Pendleton Jr.'s remark that the concept is "the looniest idea since 'Looney Tunes'."

Rep. Oakar denied an Arayne aide's claim that she had referred to the Texas Republican as "an idiot." But she indicated that she had been told Stand by for Round Two. It had been start any day.

BANKING BLUES: Our report last month on the way banks pocket millions by making customers wait several days while good-as-gold checks "clear" brought in a lot of mail.

A few bankers protested that the word "cheat" is not a "float" — is necessary to protect them from check "kiting" and plain bad checks.

Most of the response was from bankers who had been hoodwinked.

An Arkansas man, for example, told horror stories of Social Security and other checks that had taken a long time to clear, causing him to check his bank balance. "We were made of recycled basketballs."

A Maryland man said his bankers actually admitted that a deposited check was a "cheat," but they still gained the right to cash it.

FURRY TAX: The Reagan administration's anti-Soviet rhetoric remains as flinty as ever, but our State Department sources say the White House is about to end a ban on direct imports of Soviet fur products imposed 30 years ago. The embargo was routinely evaded by having the Soviet furs processed in another country before being sent to the U.S. Some sources say the direct import would lower the cost of coats made with Russian furs.

EDITORIAL: A true man of the soil is the author of a column in the Boise, Idaho, Statesman. He is Mr. Potato Head, the plastic doll on which preschoolers pin eyes, noses and glasses on. Hasbro toy company claims he is probably "the most popular ever to run for office," but this is clearly political hyperbole. We all know there are a lot of turnipsheads in Congress. But we wish Mr. Potato Head good luck. If he hopes his opponents don't dream him.

In America today seem to have forgotten that "it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game."

Sports have become a very important part of the school system today.

The winning-is-everything philosophy that clings to professional sports is inappropriate for school sports, and that has been true for years.

Is the word extracurricular really the "right" name for the sports programs of today? In a few words, athletics are so closely linked to schooling in the United States that labeling them as "extra" is misleading.

This is the reason, for the most part, why methods, styles and philosophies of today's school sports programs should be examined closely.

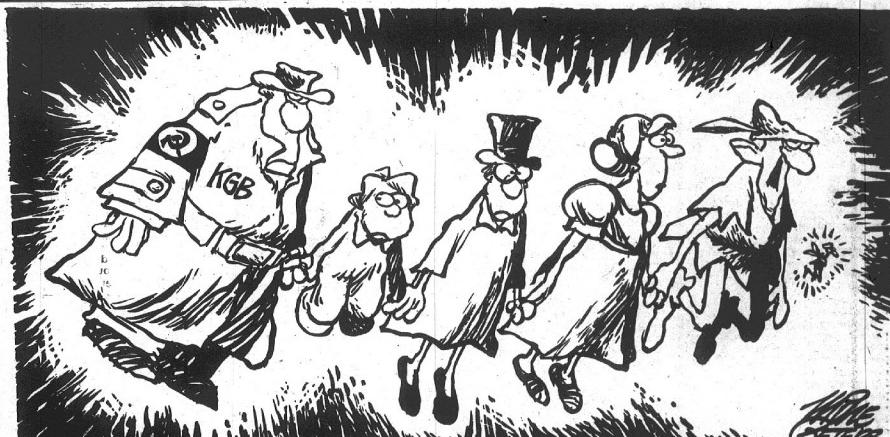

Students in kindergarten through 12th grade are not sports pros, amateurs and should not be treated as though they have reached that status.

To a professional athlete, winning might be very essential, but winning never should be the most important goal of elementary, junior high or high school sports programs.

How many times have you seen a high school pitcher used so much that he develops a sore arm? How is it that a student's life is more important than a coach's?

sports that stay with a student for a lifetime and make winners of all student athletes. I'll list three lessons.

(1) How to Win and Lose. Everyone must deal with success and failure in life, and the early training of students in sports through school sports affects how they accept and react to good and bad events as adults. If winning is constantly flaunted and defeat is always someone else's fault, then school athletes are a poor training ground for helping kids develop sound reactions to all types of success and failure.

(2) How to Cooperate. In any team sport, individuals not only need to be the best they can be, but they also must know how to work together successfully. Learning to cooperate is the first step toward understanding that group effort often is necessary to achieve productivity and success as adults.

(3) How to Compete. New skills that sports teach students learn in school cannot always be used in later life. They can, however, teach kids how to experiment to determine which skills they might be able to use later, including individual sports that can provide a lifetime of healthy physical activity.

many volleyball games have you witnessed in which some of the girls sit on the bench for most of the game?

Winning is wonderful, and there's nothing wrong with trying to win every game that is played. But this shouldn't be the only lesson of school sports — nor the only message that athletic programs give students.

It's time we remind ourselves and our students that all sport trophies gather dust.

It's the other lessons of school

A special thought . . .

Constantly worrying, making sure we're all right,
Wanting us around, just to be in their sight.

Giving us gifts or money and always willing to share,
For that is their way of showing that special care.

Taking pictures of everything for memories day by day,
Hoping the time would never end and how to make it stay.

Being there when we need them in our times of doubt,
Telling us stories of their life and how things come about.

These special people, there can only be two.
But four altogether, does that give you a clue?

Grandparents are the ones I'm talking of,
With honor and glory and a whole lot of love.

Give them hugs and kisses in that very special way.
Treat them with grace and, especially, be proud on Grandparents Day!

But don't stop there. Give them a lot of your time.
Because when you're with them, they're right in their prime.

HOWEVER, Shafer fired Hopwood that day.

"The main reason was, he was collecting the rent to pay for his salary and not worrying about anything else," Shafer said.

Shafer is now in the process of correcting the problems, he said. A dumpster was to be delivered Thursday and he has called two people in regard to moving the weeds in the park.

SHAFER SAID some of the trash problems stemmed from tenants dumping furniture in the dumpsters. "It caused problems with the trash hauler," he said. "He said it was dangerous to his men to remove the furniture from the dumpsters."

Tenants also left discarded furniture outside the mobile homes, Shafer testified.

HE SAID he had not been by the park August and September because of the village's health violation notices. He added that when he was at the park in July, there was no overgrowth of weeds.

When asked why Hopwood didn't show him the notices, Shafer said, "I showed him the notices. We had pressure on him to get something done about it."

One reason Shafer had not visited the park, he said, was because he was in the hospital in July and August.

IN CLOSING arguments, village attorney Keith Jensen said the events showed Shafer had "allowed the trailer park, by his own volition or own omission, to get in the state shown in the pictures (submitted as evidence in the hearing)."

He also proposed we believe here has been one of actual knowledge and the intent to get the work done," Shafer's attorney, David Harris of Welch Law Offices in Collinsville, said.

"Since he received the certificate letter, he has been making efforts to correct the problem and it will be corrected in the next several days," Harris said. "Because he just received the notice, it would be premature for revocation."

FOLLOWING WILSON'S decision to revoke the license, Harris said he would appeal the decision to the entire Village Board of Trustees. Harris has 10 days to file an appeal, according to the village ordinance.

About 11 residents of the mobile home park attended the hearing.

"We like the idea. We like Mr. Shafer to get his license back so he can keep up the upkeep," said Wade Evans, who owns his mobile home and rents Lot 19 from Shafer.

SEVERAL RESIDENTS said Shafer was unable to collect rent from some of the tenants. But they added that the tenants were pressuring him to pay their rent because of the condition of the mobile home park.

Marian Terry, who lives on Lot 3, said grass at the park had only been cut twice since she moved in on May 27. She also complained of water leak behind her mobile home.

The residents also said they were concerned about having to move from the park.

"I JUST BOUGHT a trailer. Who's going to pay me to move it?" asked James Monroe of Lot 22.

Jensen would not be specific about the amount of time.

"Technically, he (Shafer) doesn't have a license," he said. "If anyone is caught in the middle, it's the village. We have no control over private contracts such as rentals or the operation. The only time we can say for sure is there is a violation of an ordinance."

SHOULD SHAFER FAIL to appeal the ruling and continue to operate the park, he can be issued citations, Jensen said. Such violations would carry fines.

In a related matter, Hopwood has filed a lawsuit against Cotterman and Mobile Home Park residents Rodie Doty, Lola Davis, Douglass Cleerman and Judy Soliday in regard to rented rent and possible eviction, according to the tenants' lawyer, Robin Talbert of the Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation.

In response, the four tenants have filed a counter-claim against Hopwood and Shafer concerning the condition of the mobile home park.

AT THIS POINT, no hearings have been scheduled on the suits, Talbert said.

The possibility of action by the Illinois Department of Public Health on the mobile home park could not be confirmed Friday. A state official investigating the park could not be reached for comment.

Job Bethel 43 holds 'kidnap breakfast'

Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters hosted a "kidnap breakfast" at the home of Honored Queen Diane Kalmayer.

The girls were "kidnapped" from their homes early Saturday morning and were taken to Miss Kalmayer's home for a breakfast of doughnuts, juice and milk. "Kidnapped" were Valerie Almos, Beth Barr, Jennifer Benoit, Pauline Bills, Christy Dawson, Stacie Hahn, Jennifer Kalmayer, Anna Kalmayer, Kim Miller, Melanie Paschedag, Tracy Rich, Cary Smith and DeAnn Toenyes along with Miss Kalmayer.

The bethel also held a fun day at Wilson Park and invited area DeMolays for a volleyball game and a cookout. About 20 DeMolays attended from Granite City, Collinsville and Wood River.

A regularly scheduled meeting of Bethel 43 was held Aug. 27 with a back-to-school theme. It was also past Honored Queen Night.

The meeting was conducted by Diane Kalmayer under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Root, bethel guardian, and Ralph Baker, associate bethel guardian.

Elected officers present were Diane Kalmayer and Paula Bills, senior princess; DeAnn Toenyes, junior princess; Melanie Paschedag, guide, and Christy Dawson, marshal.

Council members attending in addition to Mrs. Root and Baker were Mrs. Emily Hahn, secretary; Dale O'Bear, treasurer; Mrs. Kathleen Offt, director of music; Mrs. Barbara Barr, custodian of paraphernalia; Mrs. Billie Bosworth, director of finance and Mrs. Betty Paschedag, promoter of socialability.

Each Mason was presented with a special gift from Queen Kalmayer.

At the end of the meeting were Rich Hahn, worshipful master of Lodge 835, and Tim Filkins, worshipful master of Lodge 877.

Each Mason was presented with a special gift from Queen Kalmayer.

At the end of the meeting were Rich Hahn, worshipful master of Lodge 835, and Tim Filkins, worshipful master of Lodge 877.

Special guests introduced were Mrs. Norma Croissant, past grand guardian of Illinois, and Joe Thorne, associate vice guardian of Illinois Job's Daughters.

Re-election of line officers was held, with the following installed:

Diane Kalmayer, honored queen; Paula Bills, senior princess; DeAnn Toenyes, junior princess; Melanie Paschedag, guide; and Christy Dawson, marshal. The officers were installed by Junior Past Honored Queen Carol Joyce.

Council members installed by Mrs. Croissant were Mrs. Charlotte Root, bethel guardian; Ralph Baker, associate bethel guardian; Mrs. Emily Hahn, secretary; Dale O'Bear, treasurer; Mrs. Kathleen Offt, director of music; Mrs. Barbara Barr, custodian of paraphernalia; Mrs. Billie Bosworth, director of finance and Mrs. Betty Paschedag, promoter of socialability.

Paula Bills reported on a trip to St. Louis in July and the official visit to Collinsville was postponed to Stacie Hahn. Both Barr had a trip to the Muny Opera this summer and Christy Dawson spoke of the official visit in Edwardsville. A talk on a July weekend trip to "Joborama" in Belvidere was given by Melanie Paschedag.

Refreshments were served and the girls entertained the guests with a kitchen band and singing. Shriners' Oriental Band performed under the direction of Curtis Bosworth, president of the band.

Senior citizen volunteers being recruited in GC

Recruitment efforts for senior citizens 60 years of age or older to volunteer in the community through Belleville Area College's Retired Senior Volunteer Program — will take place in September.

Myrna Kesterson, Madison County field coordinator for the program, will speak to senior groups, answer volunteers or answer questions and give information about the program. Monday, Sept. 8 through Wednesday, Sept. 11, from 10 a.m. till 1 p.m. at the Granite City Township Building, 2000 Delmar Ave.

The program helps senior citizens remain active, utilize the skills they have by volunteering, and improve their present skills in public and private not-for-profit agencies.

A spokesman said, "Older people might feel reluctant to approach an agency directly if no volunteers are needed. We are a helping hand, helping seniors find assignments."

"The job might be as a clerical worker, answering phones or typing, teacher aides, a community liaison for a particular agency, tutors and teaching of skills to other adults. Assignments also can be tailored to fit the individual talents of the volunteer.

"Volunteers receive liability and accident insurance to cover them while they are on their assignments. They are also reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses, including meals and transportation."

"Recognition dinners a year are provided for the RSVP volunteers at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville, with a chartered bus provided. A one-year certificate and five-year and ten-year pins are given as recognition for their service."

The program requires at least four hours a week of their time to volunteer unless the assignment requires less, and the volunteer can have more than one assignment if he or she chooses.

Seniors 60 and older are invited to come to the township building on those days or may contact Myrna Kesterson before or after those dates at the RSVP office (old Madison School), 22nd and Iowa streets, Granite City, 876-3223. She is at the office weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

GC apple pickers making reservations for Sept. 16

It's apple-picking time, 1985. A free trip to the Eckert Orchards in Grafton is being offered again this year by Granite City Township to residents aged 65 and older.

Endless buses will be provided to take the group at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 16, from the Granite City Township Building, Delmar Avenue at 21st Street. There is no limit on the number that can be accommodated.

Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer said reservations may be made by calling his office at 877-8884. The reservation deadline is 2 p.m. Friday, Sept. 13.

Those needing transportation to the bus pickup point Sept. 16 may arrange it this week with the township office. It also will be provided free of charge.

Those going to Grafton are being asked to take sack lunches. The buses will return them to 21st and Delmar during the afternoon, possibly at about 3 o'clock.

Elderly persuaded to replace 'unsafe' units

By TORI WHITEHEAD

Officials of a heating and air conditioning company which had a branch location in Caseyville are being sought on charges of consumer fraud.

A Madison County grand jury last week returned 21 indictments against Joseph VanDee Sr., 52, of Alton, his son, Joseph, VanDee Jr., 31, also of Alton, and three unknown individuals for conspiracy to commit theft over $300 and attempted theft by deceit (over $300).

DENNIS ORR of the Illinois attorney general's office in Granite City said the younger VanDee was arrested on late Tuesday night.

He said that VanDee operated American Heating and Air Conditioning out of an office in Alton and was held on $25,000 bond. He is charged with seven counts of consumer fraud.

Police were still searching for VanDee Sr., who is charged with 10 counts.

Madison County Chief Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has set a $50,000 bond for the elder VanDee, Orsey said.

THE ONLY FIRST names of the other three individuals are now known, Orsey said, although officials believe they will have positive identification in the next few days.

The indictment will then be amended, Orsey said.

He said that VanDee operated American Heating and Air Conditioning units were defective and needed to be replaced immediately for safety reasons.

THE COUPLE then charged the company was about twice the normal rate for new units, it was contend.

The statement said one case involved a 70-year-old woman who is living with and caring for her 91-year-old invalid mother. The two women reportedly needlessly removed the woman from her home.

Six of the indictments pertained to this case, the statement said.

Orsey said he anticipates other victims will come forward once news of the arrests reaches the public. He said details of the individual cases will be made public when all those charged have been arrested.

According to a statement from Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartigan, those indicted allegedly told consumers their heating or air conditioning units were defective and

Cholesterol awareness

Riette Ormond has this recurring dream: crystal, candlelight and scented linens, impeccable service, fine dining, medium-rare...

At that point, she and her husband, George, pull up stakes. Not even in a fantasy can they see themselves betraying their cholesterol consciousness.

Not in an airplane, nor in a hospital, nor in a banquet hall, not in the home of a friend.

The Ormonds, for the last 12 years, have disdained red meat, fat-free margarine and a low-fat diet. Even if it means packaging and freezing food for cross-country trips or vacations. Even if it means taking their own foods into hospitals and onto airplanes.

Restaurants, for all their charm and ambience, are off limits. Cheating is not allowed. Elevated triglycerides and cholesterol are taboo.

"If I don't go off this regimen when I'm dreaming, you know it's right," Riette said in a recent interview. "I never thought when I traveled it would take more time to pack pots and pans than clothes, but it does."

The Ormonds have a portable kitchen and an immovable resolve. What they began a dozen years ago in the name of health and longevity has become a consuming passion, a way of life they refuse to compromise.

Riette immersed herself in nutritional and culinary research, trying to find creative alternatives to what had been a traditional meat-and-potatoes American diet. Her kitchen became a nutritional laboratory.

"Prior to this, I never cooked foreign dishes. Now I cook French, Mexican, Italian and Chinese." She even made "shrimp" cocktails out of octopus to reduce the cholesterol.

In two months her husband, a marriage counselor, lost 45 pounds — back to his high school weight. His weight hasn't fluctuated since. And his physician compared his lowered cholesterol level to that of a teenager. (The Ormonds chose to live healthy.)

"In the beginning," said Riette, "I had to have substitutes for butter and mayonnaise. We had either chicken (white meat only, no skin) or fish every day. The longer we were on the diet, the less we wanted fish and chicken. We use more nuts and seeds to get our protein now. And George eats pasta — I make it myself — nearly every day."

The Ormonds talk enthusiastically about the side benefits their tritonal rebirth has shown. They say they recover more quickly from physical exertion, have more stamina, don't require deodorants, are free of headaches and rarely suffer cold symptoms.

Their triglyceride and cholesterol levels are, they say, exemplary: never above 95 for the former or 180 for the latter. And their blood pressure levels — never high — are even lower. They find their heat tolerance is greater, yet their tolerance to cold ("We can't find a swimming pool in enough anymore," said Riette) is lower.

They supplement their diet with long, vigorous walks — often including hills — which sometimes culminate in picnics.

"On airplane trips," said Riette, "I will call and ask to bring food on the plane and store it in a box that will fit beneath the seat. On cross-country trips, we take a Coleman stove and bring everything in boiling bags."

Last year, when Riette was briefly confined to a hospital due to a hernia operation, George brought along her food. He was given a shelf in the hospital refrigerator to store it and access to a microwave oven.

At banquets, said Riette, "we're the only ones who don't eat. I always tell them in advance not to serve us, and, inevitably, other people say, 'Yeah, I should have done that, too.'"

As dinner guests, the Ormonds are no trouble to cook for. They just bring their own food, heat it up, sit and eat.

"The last time we did that," said Riette, "all the others sent out for Chinese."

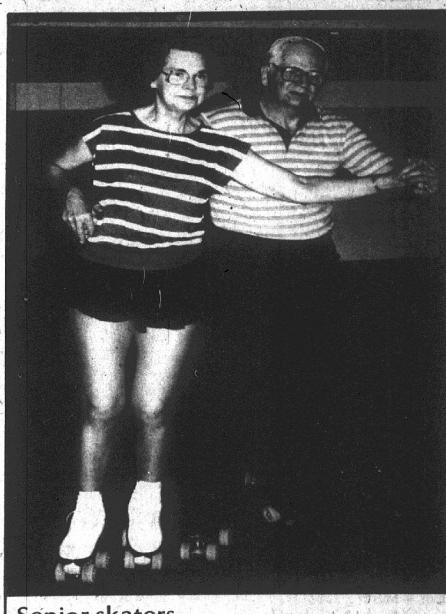

The growing curiosity and interest in their habits led them to write the book (Riette is a San Diego State University journalism graduate) and schedule the seminars. They're convinced that eating for optimum health can be a culinary adventure, yet they harbor no illusions that others will be so disciplined as to completely follow their lifestyle and regimen.

"We don't want to get up on a soapbox and convert people," said Riette. "There aren't any real shortcuts to this. It takes some time and extra care. For us, it's well worth it. We've never allowed it to be a problem."

"And we're never going to revert back to our old habits."

"Not even in a dream."

Medicare covers second opinion

Q. I have been diagnosed by my doctor as having a condition that will require major surgery. Will Medicare pay for a second opinion? — M.B.T.

A. Yes. Since any type of surgery involves some risk, it is recommended that you get an opinion from a second doctor to help you decide about surgery.

If you need assistance in obtaining another doctor you can call Medicare's Second Opinion Referral Center toll free at 1-800-638-6833.

Q. I've been told that I should get a statement of earnings every three years to ensure that my earnings record in Baltimore is correct. Why is there a time period in which to make corrections to this record? — B.R.

A. If there were not a statute of limitations regarding the period that records can be corrected, employers would be forced to keep detailed bookkeeping and personnel records for all years.

Q. My husband signed up for Social Security and Medicare last year. He has continued to work. As I understand it, he is allowed to earn $7,320 this year and still receive all of his checks. If he earns over the allowable amount, what happens? — A.K.

A. If your earnings go over the annual amount, $7,320 will be deducted from your benefits for each $2 you earn over the exempt amount. If you expect to earn over the annual exempt amount you should notify Social Security promptly so that the overpayment can be avoided.

Incidentally, the annual earnings test for beneficiaries under 65 is $5,400.

Q. I understand the disability provision protects the young worker, but at one time didn't you have to be 50 years old to receive disability benefits under Social Security? — S.H.

A. Yes. The initial disability insurance provision, which became law in 1956, provided benefits for severely disabled workers, age 50 to 64. The law was amended in 1960 to provide disability benefits for workers under age 65.

Q. Did the Depression of the '30s play a part in the creation of the Social Security Act? — W.D.

A. Yes. The Great Depression

dramatized the fact that many workers were dependent upon factors beyond their individual control for their economic security. Federal action became a necessity inasmuch as neither the states, local communities nor privately organized charities had the financial resources to cope with the growing need among the people. As a result, the Social Security Act was signed into law Aug. 14, 1935.

Q. I am a divorced woman who was married for over 10 years. I will turn 62 in December 1985. I understand I will be eligible for divorced spouse's benefits at that time.

A. However, I want to know what happens when my ex-husband's present wife is age 62 and files for benefits on his record. Will mine be decreased? I have never worked. — A.T.

A. If you decide to retire at 62 you will be eligible for reduced benefits on your ex-spouse's account. There will be no reduction in your benefit regardless of how many other people file on your ex-spouse's record.

Q. Did the Depression of the '30s play a part in the creation of the Social Security Act? — W.D.

A. Yes. The Great Depression

Gerontology sessions set at university

The public is invited to attend sessions of the graduate course, Psychology of Aging (GERON 587), to be offered at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall.

The course, one of four courses in the university's gerontology degree program, is designed to give students and professionals a better understanding of the processes of aging. Instructors will include SIUE faculty from several academic disciplines, including anthropology, biological sciences, economics, education, English, nursing and sociology.

Scheduled on Thursdays from 9 until 9 p.m. during October and November, the Gerontology Colloquium Series includes the following presentations: Oct. 1, Anthropology's Perspective on Aging, Oct. 10, A Social Worker's Perspective on Aging, Oct. 17, Anthropological Perspectives on Women & Aging, Oct. 24, Educational Programming for Older Adults, Nov. 1, An Economist's Perspective on Older Adults, Nov. 14, Health, Wellness, and Older Adults and Nov. 21, Creative Writing for Older Adults.

Lectures for Oct. 3, 10, 17, and 31 will be held in the International Room of the University Center. On Oct. 24 and Nov. 21, the lectures are scheduled in Room 2318 of Classroom Building II. The meeting on Nov. 14 will be located in the Maple Room of the University Center.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Office of the SIUE Gerontology Program at 1-692-3454.

YOGA CLASSES at the Tri-City Area YMCA include sessions during weekday lunch hours.

Yoga class being taught at YMCA

The Tri-City Area YMCA has an extensive yoga program that fits all needs of different age groups and different schedules of people in this area. Ellen Wilson of Granite City reports.

She teaches a noon fitness class at the "Y." The class is 45 minutes long for the convenience of downtown workers and others who need to return to work before their lunch hour is over.

The class also works on tensions and physical impairments caused by everyday tensions.

Weigh control, diet and vitamin therapy are discussed. The class meets each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 12, with a new series starting Sept. 9.

The Troy YMCA features a yoga class on Wednesday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. The instructor there, Dawn Brenkendorf, said, "This is a good program to rediscover one's body tone and to increase overall flexibility. The classes meet at the Troy High School gym."

There are two Granite City yoga classes for senior citizens. These classes are scheduled as a public service to the area. They are sponsored by the YMCA and there is no fee.

Ellen Wilson teaches a yoga class to Anchorage and Kirkpatrick Homes seniors on Monday and Thursday at 9 a.m. This class has been meeting for seven years, and some of the ladies participating have been attending since the beginning.

"Their enthusiasm and cooperation are inspiring," she said. "Even when the new ones start, there is a change of personality and physical well-being right away."

Another senior fitness class that is offered as a public service by the YMCA is at the Venice Senior Center. The class meets on Thursday at 11 a.m. Flexibility is emphasized along with stretching and balance, which are accomplished by using yoga positions.

Both of these public service classes will start the week of Sept. 9.

Nancy Halvachas teaches a water exercise class at the Tri-City YMCA on Friday at 9 a.m. This class uses water to help participants to do slow stretches and exercises with the aid of the water to slow the movements.

"This class is great for arthritis sufferers. Participants do not need to know how to swim," a spokesman said.

"Every one of the yoga classes that is available is open to both men and women. Those with any questions about the classes may contact the YMCA here at 876-7200 or the Troy YMCA at 897-6646."

Rawls performance to aid Cardinal Glennon hospital

ST. LOUIS — Grammy Award winner Lou Rawls will entertain guests Sept. 14 during a special benefit for Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital at Grant's Farm.

It is anticipated that the event will raise about $75,000 for the hospital.

"The funds will be used to purchase neo-natal care equipment and pediatric intensive care equipment to treat life-threatening diseases and trauma," said Douglas A. Ries, executive director of Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital.

The benefit, scheduled for Sept. 14 at Grant's Farm Bauerhof, begins with a deer park ride between 6 and 6:30 p.m.; cocktails at 6:30 and dinner at 7:30. The event is a black-tie affair.

"We're pleased to organize this event and raise funds for the neo-natal and pediatric care equipment," said Peggy A. Ritter, chairman of the benefit. Tickets for individual or corporate tables are $150 apiece or $1,200 for a table of eight, and the donation is tax deductible. A sellout crowd is expected.

Russ David will provide the music while Rawls entertains the guests.

For ticket information and orders, interested persons may call 1-314-434-2933.

Telethon raises $33 million to fight muscular dystrophy

Jerry Lewis' 1985 Supershows — the Labor Day telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy fund drive, raised $33,181,652. St. Louis area viewers of the show on KSDK, Channel 5, pledged $223,609. Both figures are up from last year.

"The people went all out again this year to help Jerry's kids," said K. Wallace Jr., local telethon co-chairman. "Their support will help lead us to the treatments and cures the Association needs."

Telethon Co-Chairman John Childress and I are proud of Jerry Lewis' efforts — and are amazed at the national efforts of Anheuser-Busch, the Seven-Up Co. and MasterCard International's Network Operations Center, all based in St. Louis.

Broadcast live from Caesars Place in Las Vegas, the marathon show was hosted by MDA National Chairman Jerry Lewis, who was backed by anchorman Ed McMahon and co-hosts Carol Kasell, Sam Donaldson and Tom Brokaw. Davis led the show's Atlantic City broadcast and Orlando emceed New York City segments. KSDK weatherman Bob Richards and KY-9's Phillips and Wall hosted the show locally. Lewis praised the nearly 200 "Love Network" stations that carried the show into millions of homes.

"The money together will go to Americans worldwide on Labor Day in support of MDA's efforts to conquer neuromuscular diseases," he said.

The telethon nationwide, 800-FIGURE MD telephone center, received pledges via MasterCard, Visa or American Express.

Around the Kitchen

FOOTBALL FUN. It's that time of the year again, and one of the best ways for the entire family to enjoy the game is to hold a tailgate picnic. Inset is Julie Haynes, wife of L.A. Raider cornerback Mike Haynes, preparing her taco salad. She shares her recipe with you in today's From the Kitchen.

NFL tackles tailgate recipes

Good cooks and good sports across America are beginning to huddle around their tailgates. It's football season. (And those pre-game parking lot picnics can be a festive way to prolong family fun in the stadium.)

First popularized as a way to include football "widows" in the "armchair quarterback" passion, tailgate buffets have become an occasion almost as popular as the game itself. Lincoln-Mercury even has designed a special tailgate for its Sable wagon, featuring built-in cup holders and storage slots for picnic gear.

Whether it's drumsticks or caviar, the only rules-of-thumb for a tailgate menu are that it be tasty and filling — and easy on the chef.

Few people have had more experience tackling this assignment than National Football League players and their wives. Today's recipes include favorites from Julie Haynes (wife of LA Raider cornerback Mike Haynes), Danny White of the Dallas Cowboys, Pat Grant (wife of Minnesota Vikings coach Pat Grant), Ken Sims of the New England Patriots and the Miami Dolphins' Lemon Bar specialty.

The dishes are easy to make, easy to pack, easy to eat and easy to bring cheers from the fans.

Rah, Mom!

Legacy of Greece ours to enjoy

This warm Aegean nation has given us so much, including a rich and varied cuisine. But it is difficult to tell how many of the country's dishes are truly Greek in origin. Greece was conquered by the Turks and became a part of the Ottoman Empire between the 15th and 19th centuries, and many of the foods we think of as typically Greek are actually variations on the Turkish original.

Brown onions lightly in olive oil. Beat eggs well, and add with cheese and onions to spinach in large bowl. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and toss gently.

Lightly oil 15x11-inch pan. Place five pastry sheets in pan, one at a time, brushing each sheet lightly with melted butter.

Spread the cheese mixture evenly over each sheet in pan, then top with remaining sheets, brushing each with butter.

Cut in squares and serve hot.

Serves 6 to 8.

2 cups vegetable broth

2 egg yolks, well beaten

Mix together flour, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Blend with small amount of water (just enough to thin mixture a bit).

Bring vegetable broth to boil in saucepan, add lemon mixture. Bring to boil a second time and stir constantly until mixture is slightly thickened.

Pour slowly into beaten egg yolks stirring well. Place over low heat and keep stirring until thickened. Serve hot over cooked vegetables.

JULIE HAYNES'TACO SALAD

1½ lbs. ground beef
1½ cups chopped onion
¾ cup chopped green pepper
Garlic salt, to taste
1 tsp. chili powder
1 small tsp. salt
1 large bag corn chips
1 head lettuce
3-4 tomatoes, chopped
1 large can black pitted olives

Cheese Sauce:
1-1½ lbs. processed American cheese
1 small can chopped green chilies
1 small jar taco sauce

Brown meat. Sauté onions and peppers and mix together with seasonings. Simmer for 3 minutes. Let cool.

In very large bowl, layer chips, meat mixture, lettuce, tomatoes and olives.

Melt cheese in double boiler or non-stick pan and mix together with green chilies and taco sauce to taste.

Pour cheese sauce over top just before serving.

Serves 8 to 10.

mixture with mushrooms.

Butter a 9x13-inch baking dish. Line bottom and sides with slices of American cheese and pour egg mixture over cheese slices. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 350 F. oven 30 minutes or until lightly browned and puffy. Serve warm or cold.

Serves 4 to 6.

DOLPHIN'S LEMON BARS

2½ cups all-purpose flour, divided

½ cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup firm butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
½ tsp. baking powder
4 eggs, beaten
6 tbsps. lemon juice

Preheat oven to 350 F. Mix together 2 cups of flour with confectioners' sugar in bowl. Cut in butter with pastry blender or two knives. When mixture looks like cornmeal, turn into ungreased 9x12x3-inch baking pan. Press mixture down firmly on bottom of pan. Bake 20 minutes.

Mix together remaining ¼ cup flour with sugar and baking powder. Add to beaten eggs and mix well. Beat in lemon juice. Pour over baked crust. Bake 25 minutes. Cool about 30 minutes and cut into squares. Dust with confectioners' sugar before serving.

Makes about 24 squares.

Greek food

1 sweet red onion, thinly sliced
1 small green pepper, cut in thin rings
1 cup crumbled feta cheese
½ cup cooked chickpeas (garbanzo beans)

Business groups to lobby against liability lawsuits, citing Madison County

By DENNIS McMURRAY

SPRINGFIELD — Major business leaders are expected to join in a major lobbying effort next year to put hurdles in the way of the exploding number of liability lawsuits filed in Madison County.

The successful effort by the Illinois Medical Society this year to lobby through new law putting curbs on malpractice lawsuits has triggered an effort to apply some of the same restrictions to other liability actions, said William Dunn, vice-president of the Illinois Manufacturers Association.

DART CITED MADISON and St. Clair counties as an area in the state where the volume of lawsuits and their settlements or verdicts against companies has sparked demand for legislation.

"Industry shudders at the thought of being sued in Madison and St. Clair counties," Dart said.

Robert J. Winkler, who represents Madison-St. Clair counties Industries as lobbyist for the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association, said the area has a national reputation for high liability awards.

"WE'VE GOT" the reputation whether rightfully or wrongfully," Winkler added, saying it may be a factor in the lack of new firms moving into the area.

Dart has discussed with Steve Sauer, executive director of the Illinois Municipal League, the possibility of joining business groups in lobbying for legislation affecting liability lawsuits.

Store's specialty outdoor equipment

A new business specializing in outdoor recreational equipment has opened in Edwardsville.

Wilderness Connection, located at 222 N. Main St., is owned and operated by Tim and Julie Doyle of Edwardsville.

Wilderness Connection has been in operation since Aug. 5, with a grand Sargent said he expected there will be a joint "major effort" starting next year.

He said cities and other local government liability insurance costs were also rising because they, like corporations, are "looked on as deep pockets" and they are paying exorbitant damages even though their involvement may be minimal."

SARGENT SAID they hadn't discussed any specifics yet which might be sought in a legislative reform package, and he hesitated to enter into the medical society approach.

Dart, however, suggested some of the changes in the new medical malpractice law, such as pre-trial screening panels, could be adapted to screen out "frivolous" lawsuits.

For example, in a product liability case, an engineer, lawyer and judge could compose a panel, similar to the doctor, lawyer and judge on the medical panels.

DART INDICATED the IMA and other business groups were not trying to shut off meritorious damage claims but "the system has been awful good to trial (plaintiff's) lawyers and we feel they're playing field had been very uneven."

"It will take a massive effort such as the doctors put in" to pass legislation, because he said Judiciary committees in the Illinois General Assembly are sympathetic to plaintiff lawyers.

Dart said if the effort fails next spring, it could at least establish a "beachhead" for passage after the 1986 elections.

Gasohol tax boosted

Gasohol users will start paying more state sales tax under legislation signed into law by Gov. James Thompson.

The current 1 cent per gallon tax will be increased immediately to 2 cents until May 31, 1986, then to 3 cents three months later in 1986, and back to the full 5-cent rate in 1988.

Five cents is the sales tax on gasoline. It was once removed entirely for gasohol, with 1 cent later imposed.

The tax law also provides for an increase of 1 cent in the state sales tax for each possible 1-cent reduction in the federal excise tax on gasohol. This would be effective in the event the federal tax is reduced.

The bill was a compromise between ethanol producers who wanted to keep the tax low and oil companies who don't want to get in the gasohol business and contend the tax break is no longer needed to make gasohol competitive.

Durbin wants Congress to look into whether Baker's decision was wise. "I am increasingly worried why it is becomingly being used for 'super unleaded,'" he said in Illinois.

In 1984, 561 million gallons of ethanol and gasohol were produced.

In 1985, 1.3 billion gallons of ethanol and gasohol were produced.

With the gasohol tax being imposed on the state, tax legislation he is working on with U.S. Rep. Dick Durbin and U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, continued to criticize the decision of the U.S. Treasury Department to delay implementation of a new tax duty on imported blended ethanol coming in Sept. 11 through 14.

They fear the delay will result in the U.S. being flooded with low-priced ethanol from Brazil, where it is made primarily from sugar cane.

Officials of the state's largest ethanol producer, DuPont ADM Corp., have warned they may have to cut back production if the feared influx of Brazilian ethanol hits the market.

Thompson sent a letter to President Ronald Reagan urging him to immediately impose the new 1-cent-per-gallon tariff and overturn a decision by Treasury Secretary James Baker to delay the tariff until Nov. 1.

The governor will seek an investigation of Baker's decision, which he called biased in favor of importers at the expense of American farmers and manufacturers.

'A Respectable Showing' Warriors battle, but fall to touted Maroons

GRANITE CITY — Belleville West fullback Rick Rujawitz stands only five-foot, 10-inches tall. But the way he carried the ball he was easily the tallest player on the field.

Rujawitz rushed for 200 yards, giving him 300 yards on the season as the Maroons won down Granite City 24-13 Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

It was the Southwestern Conference opener for both schools.

"He's hard to stop," said Warrior coach Ron Yates. "Rujawitz... then again our defense didn't play its best and that makes a good runner even better."

To its credit the Warriors did have its moments, however. It was the big play allowed West breathing room.

"It's a game of big plays," Yates said. "If you stop their three or four big plays, you win."

For Granite City, the big play came just once and the Warriors weren't able to manufacture another.

Granite City led in the game just one time after Tim Hogan found brother Jamie deep in the West secondary for a 38-yard touchdown play late in the third quarter. Ryan Koenig point gave the Warriors a 13-12 lead.

Less than three minutes before that Granite City drove to the goal line only to have Brian Gaskill intercept Hogan's pass in the end zone.

"My quarterback auditioned on that play. I had originally called a power run, but I thought if I could get a foot or two, the defense would be off balance and I could get a foot. 'The bad thing about an audible is you're either a hero or goat.'

West took the lead for good early in the fourth quarter on a 30-yard punt by Gaskill which ended up opening in the left side of the Warrior line and sprinted to the end zone. The conversion failed, making the score 18-13.

Trojans overcome jitters; pound Columbia Eagles 32-2

Smith: 'I feel real positive'

MADISON — Don Smith, head coach of the Madison High School football team, was playing the role of the nervous general about to lead his troops to the battlefield prior to Friday night's game against the Columbia Eagles.

And they say only the players get jittery.

"I feel real positive about this game, the only thing I'm worried about is the fact that this is our first game. I just hope the guys don't get too nervous. If we play up to our potential, then we won't have any trouble," Smith said.

If the Madison squad had any "butterflies" they certainly didn't show it. Columbia was able to manage only 26 yards of offense while falling to the Trojans' by a score of 32-2.

The tempo for the game was set early as both teams exchanged punts. The opening kickoff and returned it 85 yards for Madison's first touchdown of the year. Angelo Cross followed with the two-point conversion. They never looked back the rest of the evening.

"Coach Smith told me just to stay behind my three big guys (Albert

Granite City took over at their own 22 and moved down to the 10 of David Tatum and a quick pass to Jamie Hogan moved the ball to West's 35 before the drive stalled.

The Maroons got the ball on their 25 yard-line and utilizing their punting and running game drove 75 yards to the goal line where after Yates' one-yard dive with 2:52 remaining gave him 200 yards on the night. Rujawitz, who was a back-up last year, carried the ball 27 times.

West reeled off 11 running plays ripping off chunks of yardage with ease. Rujawitz carried the ball seven times during the series.

"I thought we showed a lot of character by coming back," said Belleville West head coach Burce Arnold.

The Maroons scored first with 1:36 left in the fourth quarter when Todd Burkis scored on a 52-yard run.

Granite City started to move the ball after getting the kick-off. A couple of passes to Jamie Hogan, who had 176 yards receiving, moved the Warriors closer. Runs by Mike Monroe and Hogan moved the ball to the 14. From there Weeks booted a 33-yard field goal.

Weeks was perfect in three kicking opportunities, hitting field goals and an extra point.

"He's a great kicker," Yates said.

"He's got some leg strength and control on all the time."

Both teams exchanged possessions and when West finally got the ball, they need just one play to score. Rujawitz broke two tackles and rumbled 80 yards with 6:24 left in the half.

"Something you have to get is the big play," Arnold said. "However, sometimes those plays have a habit of lulling you to sleep, you lose concentration."

The Warriors' defense stopped the Maroons late in the fourth after Charlie Yager sacked West's Brian Sisk and good defensive pressure forced two incomplete passes.

With 1:15 remaining, the Hogan-to-Hogan connection moved the ball to the Maroon's 30. Timmy Hogan then ran the ball 11 yards from there, however, the drive ended.

Granite City had a chance but Hogan's second down pass bounced in and out of Chris Moad's hands.

Still, Granite City trailed by just six points after Weeks booted a 30-yard field goal with 1:04 remaining.

The Maroons stung the Warriors again in the third quarter with an eight-play drive capped by Gaskill's run.

"Finally we started to take control in the second half," Arnold said. "I was beginning to get a little worried."

Except for the quick-scoring plays, Granite City played West even. The Maroons, now 2-0, entered the game as the No. 4 ranked team in the St. Louis area.

"I think we gained some respectability," Yates said. "We showed a lot of people that we could play. The program is arriving."

Granite City's offense continued to move the ball even without its regular starting line-up in the game.

Both Ron Owens and Pat Keeeling did play, however, and the offense was still effective.

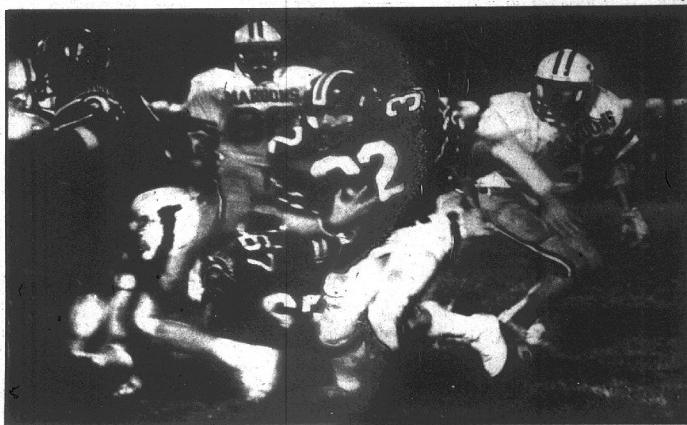

Despite the score I thought we controlled the first half," Arnold said.

up 28 yards rushing. Both teams had five turnovers.

"When we had the ball we ate up a lot of time," Yates said. "So right now our best defense would be a ball-controlled offense."

"I think the score was very misleading," Yates said. "I think it was a two-touchdown game," Yates said.

Things don't get any easier for the Warriors who play two-time defending state champion East St. Louis coming into the game. I also thought that the front defensive line did a super job. The defense made some great sticks," Smith said.

As the Madison players left the lockerroom, one couldn't help but notice that certain smile of accomplishment they all wore. They had entered battle as soldiers and emerged heroes.

Smith, wearing a more relaxed smile, said he was very pleased with the performance of his squad.

"I thought that our defense did a very good job, I was really pleased considering that this was their first game. I was awfully proud of McCormick, he showed a lot of guts out there."

"Our defensive backs did a super job of coming up on the sweep, that was really a big concern of mine over.

"Everyone told me to just go out and run hard, that's all I did. The line was great, especially the right side. They were great. I think what did we (the running backs), I feel very relaxed now that the first game is over," said McCormick.

The Columbia defense had hoped to make it through the second half without surrendering another touchdown to the mighty Trojans. Unfortunately for the Eagles, Madison's fullback Darryle McCormick had his second two-point conversion of the evening giving Madison a 16-0 advantage after the first period.

Coach Smith decided to call the play because the Columbia backs were being set up for the sweep and they were leaving me wide open," Young said.

Following a second quarter Columbia fumble which was recovered by linebacker Steve Briddle, Madison marched 52 yards to the Eagles 16 yard line, McCormick had his second two-point conversion of the evening giving Madison a 16-0 advantage after the first period.

Volleyball Opener Flyerettes zip by Warriors

By PAULA WISE
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — East St. Louis Senior High School girls' volleyball team came to Granite City Friday night and took two-set victory match from the Warriors 15-4, 15-8.

Granite City, which had hoped to make a good showing in their season opener against the Flyerettes, were unable to mount any kind of attack against the mighty Flyerettes.

Crushing spikes by the Flyerets' Neeta Golday and Tamila Jones kept the Warrior team on the defensive all night.

"It was a struggle out there," said Granite City coach Wilma Schulze after Friday's contest. "We could never get the momentum going. We didn't run an attack at all, even on service receive."

"But it was the first game," the Granite City coach added. "I think the girls sensed that they didn't play well and know they can play better. I don't think they will think they're a bad team just because of one game. I believe these girls will evaluate the game and say, 'Hey let's get busy and go to work.'

"They know East Side is a good team and they're the type team who will use this as a positive influence."

After Friday's game the positive effects of the loss could already be seen and felt among the Warrior players.

"That's the last one we're going to lose," Granite City captain Besty Watson said confidently. "This was the first-game jitters. We didn't expect them to be that good of passers."

However, East Sides' excellent passing was not that surprising to the Granite City coach.

"He always seems to be on passing," said Schulze. "The Flyerets' Flyerette coach Clarence Goldthrite. 'They're always high passes, but right to the setter. That makes the setter's job much easier.'

Poor serving was another problem which plagued the Warriors. Friday's day's match, although the Warriors served well, this problem seemed to return in practice, it surfaced in the East St. Louis contest to further hinder the Warrior attack.

"I think sometimes when the girls get into an actual game and have to play against bigger, taller girls than those used to practicing, they look across the net and don't see any holes to serve to, so they think they have to serve the ball harder and end up serving out of bounds," the Granite City coach explained.

On the positive side for the Warriors was the play of outside Watson. Consistency, which was the key to Watson's play last season, again helped the Warrior spiker to be impressive on the court.

"Brigid played a good game tonight," said Schulze after Friday's game. "She did a great job in part, in practice she works hard, listens and thinks things up quickly. She really seems to love the game."

Another bright spot for the Granite City team was the 16-14, 15-12 victory of the junior varsity squad.

The varsity Warriors will again try for their first win of the season Monday when they travel to Edwardsville for a 6:30 p.m. contest.

GCHS Golfers Golfers open with a bang

By GARY KING
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Entering Thursday's season opener, a three-set match against Roxana and Wood River, Granite City High School golf coach Russ Chappell said he thought this year's squad of golfers would be definitely a force to be reckoned with.

"I think we're very strong. I've got six of my top eight starters back. In fact, I think we're one of the top two teams in the area," Chappell said.

"We're good, we have a very solid top six and I think we just have a very tough all around team," according to junior Eldon Depew.

What is not noted as being a spectator sport such as some of its fall counterparts, that doesn't really seem to bother this eager group of golfers. They play strictly out of love for the sport.

"We've just out here because we like to play golf, there really isn't any other reason for us to be out here," said Depew.

It was Depew who faced perhaps the most unusual opponent in Wood team score, while Roxana and Wood River placed team scores of 174 and 181 respectively. Earning top scoring honors for Granite City were Bill Gaumer with a 37, Eldon Depew with a 39, while both Steve Schatz and Mike Sturman finished with a 40.

The Warrior coach says this year's squad will be much better than last year's, although last year's team was the fifth best in the state mark. The forte of this year's squad, Chappell says, is its consistency.

"We've got six guys who can shoot around 40 consistently, and anyone in our top four can shoot good enough to pick up the slack if someone has a bad day."

What is not noted as being a spectator sport such as some of its fall counterparts, that doesn't really seem to bother this eager group of golfers. They play strictly out of love for the sport.

"We've just out here because we like to play golf, there really isn't any other reason for us to be out here," said Depew.

It was Depew who faced perhaps the most unusual opponent in Wood River golfer Ashley Hill. Playing in what is primarily tagged a boys' sport at the high school level, Hill is one of the few lady golfers in the area. And, how does she view her male competition?

"I think that it puts more pressure on the boys that it does on me. The guys don't want to lose to a girl," said Hill.

It is obvious that this year's Warrior squad has bigger things on its mind than losing to girls, or for that matter, losing to anyone. These guys have already established their goals.

"We want to get out of the regionals and be able to go to state," said senior Alan Gerard.

Have they set their goals to high? Just ask any Warrior golfer.

GOLF NOTE: Dwayne "Bacon" Chaney, who was the Warrior golf coach at Granite City High School during three years ago, has been named Chappell's assistant because of the unusually large turnout of boys. The action was taken Tuesday, Sept. 3, at the district board meeting.

100-mile, Century bicycle ride is slated next weekend

VALMEYER — The Fall Flat As A Pancake Century (100-mile bicycle ride) will be held on Sunday, Sept. 15, starting at 7 a.m. The Pancake Century, sponsored by the Ozark Area Council of American Youth Hostels and Bike Unlimited, will offer participants the opportunity to earn the Fall Century Patch on one of the flattest 100-mile bicycle routes in the country.

Starting at Valmeyer Community School at Valmeyer, the Fall Flat As A Pancake Century will bring local traffic, scenic, rural roads. A homemade lunch of sandwiches and sweets will be provided.

The registration fee is $5 for AYH members and $7 for non-members until Sept. 8; registration after Sept. 8 is $10 for AYH members and $12 for non-members. Included in the fee is a patch, a Fall Pancake Century surance. T-shirts are also available for $5 by Sept. 6 and $7 after Sept. 6 and on the day of the ride.

Participants may register by Sept. 8 by calling the Ozark Area Council office at 421-2044 for registration forms and additional information.

Boosters change meeting

The Granite City High School Booster Club, which usually meets on the third Tuesday of the month, has changed its meeting from that date this month only to the third Monday of the month, Monday, Sept. 16.

The change was made to because of a scheduling conflict with the Warriors' soccer game with Ed-wardsville.

Although the date has changed, the time and the location of the meeting will remain the same — 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Mating call booms
 An alligator's mating call resembles the boom of a cannon. Females often don't eat for eight to nine weeks before mating.

Your disability risk
 If you're 22 years old, you have a less than 1-in-1,000 chance of becoming disabled for a year or longer, the Health Insurance Association of America calculates. But if you're 62 years old the risk is 15 in 1,000.
